

The Mookulele Magic Workshop!

Turn One Chord Into Two... and Two Chords Into a Whole Lot of Fun!

Hosted by Ukulele John — Morrinsville’s own musical mischief-maker and fearless leader of the Mookuleles

Are you stuck playing the same three chords over and over until even the cat rolls its eyes? Do you secretly wish you could level up your ukulele without having to grow extra fingers? Have you ever wondered how some players make ONE chord sound like FIVE?

Well saddle up, Cowtown — Ukulele John is about to open the gate and let the magic cows run free.

What You’ll Learn (without breaking your brain):

- ♪ The “One-Chord Trickery” System — sneaky ways to turn a single chord into multiple flavours, moods, and musical colours.
- ♪ The Cowtown Cheat Codes — micro-moves, shape slides, and rhythmic hacks that instantly make you sound cooler than you feel.
- ♪ The Mookulele Groove Method — how to turn your simple chords into toe-tapping, smile-making, “wow-are-you-a-professional?” magic.
- ♪ Play-Along Sessions that keep everything light, easy, and ridiculously fun.

Who It’s For:

- ✓ Absolute beginners
- ✓ Players stuck in the “C–F–G loop of doom”
- ✓ Anyone who wants more fun in their playing without extra practice
- ✓ People who enjoy laughing while accidentally learning things

Who’s Teaching You:

Ukulele John, straight from the bustling metropolis of Morrinsville (population: cows). Creator of the Mookuleles, breaker of musical rules, and firm believer that music should never feel like homework.

If you can hold a ukulele and smile at the same time — you’re in.

Warning:

This workshop may cause sudden bursts of confidence, toe-tapping, grinning, and the unshakable belief that you can actually play this thing.
