WORKSHOP 1

1) The Rythm is Magic (feel it in your soul)

You don't "listen to Rythm", you "feel" the Rhythm.

As we play a song on the ukulele, sometimes we may get a strange feeling: our playing is good, the chords are correct, the tempo is right, and yet... something seems off.

Most of the time that's because of the rhythm.

In this workshop we'll learn incredible tricks that will make our ukulele feel like an unstoppable music machine.

We'll learn the Sounding Chunk technique, the anticipation beat, the lifting beat, and many new Rhythmic soundscapes just a few people knew existed!

WORKSHOP 2

2) And Your Uke Can Sing

A regular chord - major or minor - is made of three sounds. These chords are often a good starting point for a musical piece. As the song unfolds, though, it's more interesting if the chords evolve, too, bringing the listener into new territories.

In this workshop, we will discover how to build up interesting and beautiful musical movements without even thinking about the chord we are playing. We'll find out a way to create progressions, and we will discover how your ukulele can beautifully harmonize with your voice.

3) Adventures Up and Down the Neck

Playing up and down the neck can be frightening, but after this workshop, it'll be a piece of cake! Most of the time, music works very well when something stands still while something else moves. In this case, we're going to use our four strings like four different voices. Two strings will play a fixed chord while two other strings will sing harmonized melodies up and down the neck. This way, your ukulele will simultaneously create a chord and two different voices, sounding very rich and fancy
